PROSTORNO I URBANISTIČKO PLANIRANJE PREKOGRANIČNE SARADNJE LOKALNIH SAMOUPRAVA

Novi Sad, decembar 2015.

EU

- Spatial Planning has developed through time in response to the particular legal, socio-economic, political and cultural forces of a country or region;
- Spatial planning traditions are specific to each EU Member State and are commonly not transferable from one situation to another;
- The spatial and environmental planning should play the key role in coordination and integration of different interests in achieving the sustainable regional development.

Location of Serbia in the context of Europe and European spatial planning families

What is expected of spatial planning today at the level of the European Union and its regions?

The Territorial Agenda of the European Union

- Towards a More Competitive and Sustainable Europe of Diverse Regions
- Strengthening regional identity and better utilisation of potentials of the regionally differentiated EU territory

Planning System and Spatial Plans in relation to the levels of government

Level of government	Spatial plans
Republican level (National assembly, Republican Ministries)	The Spatial Plan of Republic of Serbia The Spatial Plan for Special-Purpose Areas The Regional Spatial Plan
Autonomous Provinces or The city of Belgrade (Assembly of an Autonomous Province, Assembly of the City of Belgrade)	The Regional Spatial Plan (if on its territory) The Spatial Plans for Special Purpose Area (if on its territory),
Municipality level (Assembly of municipality or group of municipalities)	The Spatial Plan of Local Communities

Obligation to harmonise national sectoral strategy and lower level spatial plans with the Spatial Plan of the Republic of Serbia.

One of principal preconditions is to enable participation of stakeholders and transparency of decision-making processes in all forms of planning, and especially sectorial planning
